Tetrad Guide: TR13 R

(Hythe Beach and Hythe Bay)

The tetrad TR13 R is comprised almost entirely of sea, apart from a tiny stretch of shingle beach in the north-west corner. The fairly short bird list relates therefore primarily to species seen on seawatches or on the sea in the bay.

Highlights have included Goldeneye, Smew and Goosander, three species of Shearwater, Avocet and Glaucous Gull, among the more regular wildfowl, waders and seabirds.

Turnstone may be found occasionally on the shingle whilst the few passerine records mainly relate to overhead visual migration.

The non-avian list is extremely modest and lacking some of the more regular marine species.

The tetrad can be viewed from the seawall where there is free parking.
